Collaborative Learning

Flexible Furniture for Evolving Spaces

VIRCO®

Equipment for Educators™

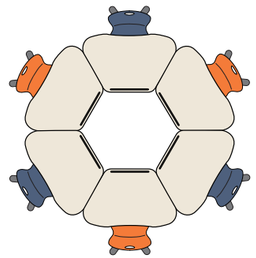
Student-Centered Collaboration

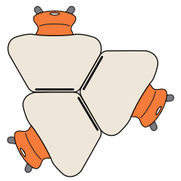
Modern learning environments are all about flexibility and collaboration – giving students and teachers the opportunity to create unique educational spaces. The best solutions are often those that enable a variety of learning and activity zones within the same classroom offering choices to accommodate all learners and learning styles.

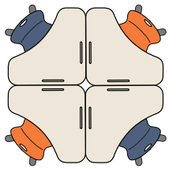
Virco supports a collaborative learning environment with furniture that allows easy transition from lecture to hands-on practice, from group projects to independent time for reading, research or introspection.

Taking learning to the next level

Our furniture solutions support the next generation of great thinkers and provide spaces that foster collaboration, communication and innovation.







Classrooms

Virco's innovative designs allow teachers to create opportunities for interaction while still accommodating multiple learning styles throughout their classrooms. Mobile furniture can be arranged to encourage group collaboration and then easily reorganized to support individual work. Adjustable-height tables and desks are available so students can work comfortably according to their needs.
