

Metonymy™

Adapting To Your Space

Furniture That Fits®

Find Your Balance

At first glance, Metonymy is a sturdy desk with a padded bench seat and footrest that neatly nest together. In an instant, it recombines to become a tip-proof step stool, speaker's podium, standing desk, or bookstand – equally capable in each role it takes.

A study in balance, Metonymy is both hard-working and beautiful, versatile and adept, offering maximum functionality in a compact, clever design. It's perfect for classrooms, commons and libraries – and uniquely effective in urban lofts and traditional living spaces, too.

Truly more than the sum of its parts, Metonymy invites you to put it to work.

Up to the Task, Built to Last

At the heart of Metonymy's versatility is its legendary Virco construction. On the floor, the tip-proof footrest can support adults up to 300 lbs., while its non-slip surface adds stability underfoot. Steel supports and high-pressure laminate ensure years of service.

Non-marring glides protect surfaces as Metonymy transforms from a seated to a stand-up desk; the integrated lift handles make the transformation a breeze. Nested, all three pieces store away in a neat, compact space.

Student Center

Metonymy offers a space-saving and versatile solution for the dorm or at home – or for spaces that change ownership by the hour. It's cleverly simple, remarkably sturdy and attractive, with clean lines and a choice of laminates to complement a range of environments.

Divide and Adapt

So where could you use Metonymy? As a set, it expands a space for multiple functions. On their own, Metonymy's individual components adapt to the need. Place them throughout a space for various functions: to access stacks or storage, expand seating, or encourage individual study in quiet corners of the room.

In this library floor plan Metonymy is used to service a variety of needs throughout the library. Individual work stations are arranged with views of the courtyard outside, foot stools are easily accessed near the book shelves and benches are available as extra seating.

Metonymy™ Features and Finishes

Metonymy is available in a wide range of durable high-pressure laminate finishes and coordinating upholstery options.

Proudly Designed, Manufactured And Assembled By American Workers

Since 1950, when we opened our doors in Southern California, Virco has been proud to design, manufacture and assemble our products in the U.S., keeping quality jobs with U.S. workers and U.S. dollars at home.

One of America's iconic brands, Virco is the country's largest manufacturer and supplier of furniture and equipment for K-12 schools. All manufacturing processes – from metal fabrication and woodworking, to plastic injection molding, powder coating and chrome plating – are done in-house at our two state-of-the-art facilities in Torrance, California, and Conway, Arkansas.

Holding To The Highest Standards For Over 65 Years

Virco proudly complies with all laws and governmental regulations affecting our products. Visit www.virco.com for information on warranties, awards, certifications, testing standards, and environmental initiatives.
